

AGILITY SEMINARS WITH KRISTY NETZER

July 28- 29
2018

Saturday Morning 9:00 am – 12:30 pm

Commitment, Commitment, and MORE Commitment:

Commitment means that your dog will decide to take an obstacle long before he gets there. This allows you to leave or move away in order to get to difficult handling areas on a course. This is also very important if you need to do distance handling. This is a fantastic seminar for all levels of dog and handler. Dogs must understand how to perform all the equipment.

Saturday Afternoon 1:30 pm— 5:00 pm

Lead Out's and Difficult Starts:

Many courses are won and lost in the first three or four obstacles. It can be difficult to decide how to handle the very beginning of a course, especially when it's difficult. In this seminar, Kristy will teach you many lead-out techniques that will have you starting off the course right!! It includes an element of distance work for those handlers who need to get further forward on a course.

Sunday Morning 9:00 am—12:30 pm

International Foundation:

This seminar is for handlers who would like to learn the international handling moves that are helpful when running AKC Premier courses. Kristy will present several of the "fancy moves" in a way that is fun and easy for both handler and dog to learn. This seminar is for handlers and dogs who are at the advanced level and above.....it's never too early for your dog to learn these skills!

Sunday Afternoon 1:30 pm—5:00 pm

Masters/Premier Handling:

In this seminar, we will take the "fancy moves" that we learned in the International Foundation session, as well as many others, and apply them to a course. This seminar is for Masters level handlers who have done backside training with their dogs. These courses will be difficult, but also very fun!

Kristy Netzer Bio: Kristy attended the first ever dog agility seminar in Southern California in 1989. The teamwork, competition, and fun attracted her to this wonderful new sport. With encouragement from her fellow competitors, she started teaching agility in 1995. She has since taught hundreds of students and shown them how to incorporate extraordinary distance skills into their handling systems. In 2010, Kristy produced a video, "Dial Up The Distance" for Clean Run and she writes monthly articles for the magazine.

Kristy's students range from highly athletic handlers who compete on the world team, to physically challenged handlers. She has helped more than 75 handlers earn their Championship titles. Kristy has earned agility championships with 4 of her own dogs. She is currently running a 3 year old Border Collie named Diggity and has a new puppy who is just beginning to learn the sport.

There will be a 1 hour lunch break both days.
List of local restaurants will be provided.
